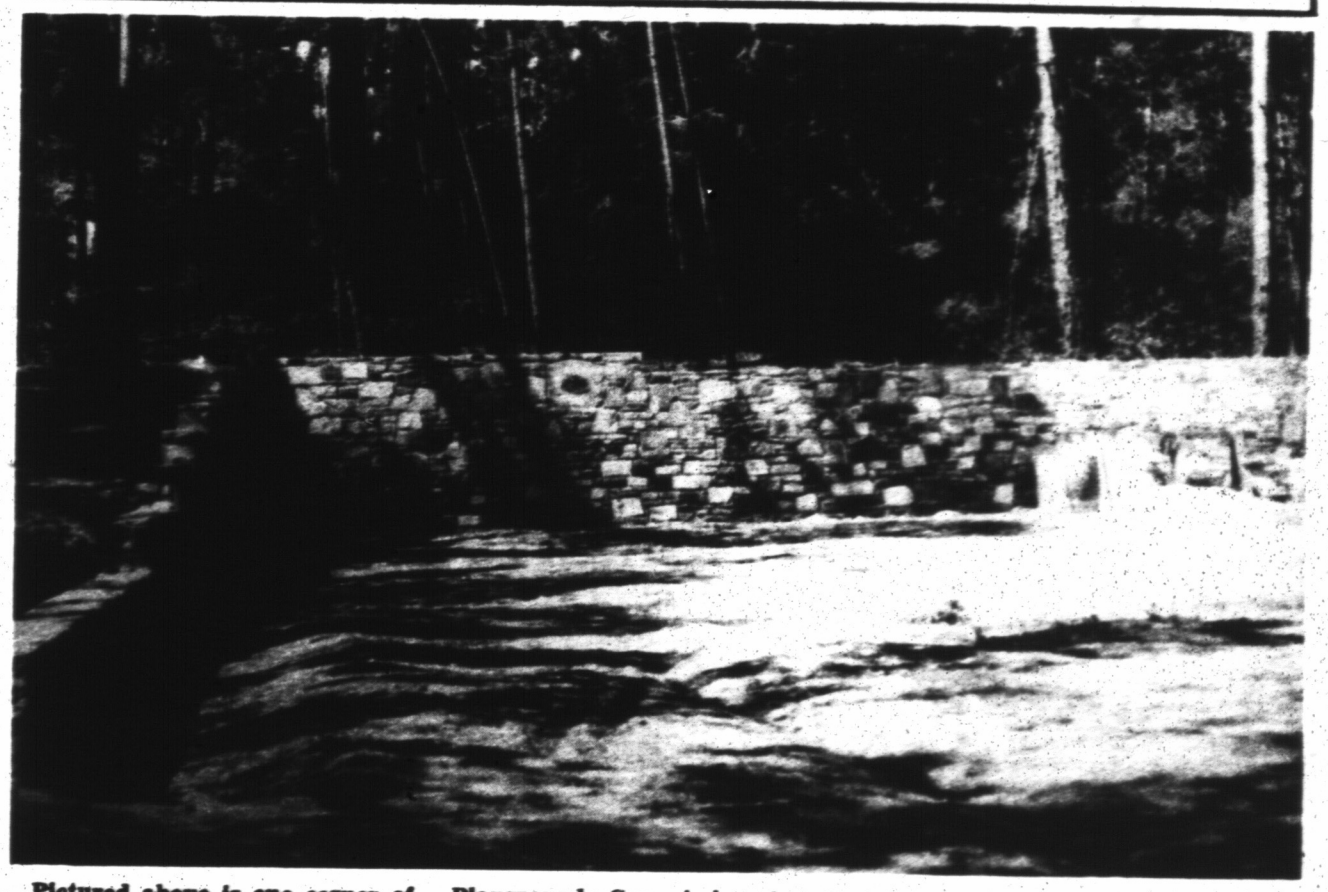
To Complete Tennis Courts



Pictured above is one corner of the tennis courts in Carmel Woods. The newly appointed Parks and Playgrounds Commissions has decided to make the courts its No. 1 project and it is believed that they will be completed in time for play during the early part of July.

Tennis Courts Will Receive Attention

Completion of the tennis court, in the Carmel Woods section of the village, is to be the first project of the newly created city park and playground commission, according to Corum Jackson, chairman of the group.

The commission hopes to have the courts completed by July 1 but it will be necessary to complete the grading, roll and surface the courts, build fences, erect net posts, purchase nets and mark the lines on the courts before they are ready for play.

The project was taken up for preliminary discussion at a meeting of the commission held last night. Indications are that the city will appropriate sufficient funds to complete the job after the commission has determined what the cost will be.

One of the problems faced by the commission will be type of nets to provide. As there are so many visitors in Carmel, several members of the commission fear that the regular type nets would be stolen with such frequency that the cost would be prohibitive. Jackson is considering recommendation of a new type of steel net which would be a permanent installation.

PLAN SCOUT CAMP

Preparations are being made by officials of the Monterey Bay Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, for a Scout encampment to be held in the Big Sur State Park in the near future. Every registered Scout in the area is qualified for the outing.

Carmel Scouts who are interested in the encampment may procure detailed information through either Mayor Everett Smith or W. S. Frolli, local members of the committee in charge of arrangements. As swimming and life-saving will be stressed in the encampment this summer, Scout officials feel that the Big Sur area is an ideal spot for the annual outing.

CARVES PARK SIGNS

Bill Kneass, local wood carver, returned to Carmel last week after a sojourn in Berkeley, where he had an assignment to hand-carve more than 30 signs which will direct tourists through the state park which has been created in the hills back of Oakland and Berkeley. He expects to return to the bay district in the near future to carve a number of additional signs for the park.

Mrs. Maud De Yoe, and son Bob, drove to San Francisco Thursday to join the throngs of the Golden Gate Fiesta.

Repairs for Forest Theater Considered

Plans for making necessary repairs to the Forest theater stage so that at least two plays may be produced here during the summer season were discussed at a meeting of the Parks and Playgrounds Commission held last night. Members of the group will inspect the stage during the coming week and determine what repairs will be necessary.

Byington Ford, it is understood, is planning to stage a children's play during July and members of the old Forest Theater group are said to be making arrangements for the presentation of a Shakesperian play during the same month.

In the near future, the commission is expected to adopt a schedule of rental charges for the theater, according to Corum Jackson, the chairman. Professional producers or organizations which expect to present plays for profit would be charged a higher rental than individuals or organizations present plays as benefits.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Many Carmelites are planning to help Monterey celebrate its 167th birthday Thursday.

The birthday party will begin with a sunrise service under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. A 13 gun salute from the 75th Field Artillery will open the fiesta.

All of the color of Old Monterey will be restored at a merienda to be held in Memory Garden at noon. A play will be presented in the First Theater for the first time in 75 years. The committee in charge has arranged for street entertainment for those who are unable to obtain admission to the indoor attractions.

Jury Clears Roach

Milton Roach, employee of a local cigar store, was cleared of responsibility in connection with the death of Giacinto Re in Carmel last Wednesday when a coroner's jury returned its verdict at an inquest held in Monterey Tuesday.

Roach was attempting to eject Re from the shop because of his intoxicated condition. During the scuffle, Re fell and struck his head on the concrete sidewalk. He died of a fractured skull the following morning. Roach had been held on an involuntary manslaughter charge.

Last Rites Held for Plane Crash Victim

More than a score of Carmelites journeyed to Salinas Saturday morning to attend funeral services for Catherine M. Whitney, wife of Willard W. Whitney and popular business woman of the village, who lost her life in an airplane crash at Santa Maria Wednesday night.

The body of Mrs. Dorothy B. Fauntleroy, another Carmelite who died in the crash, was claimed by relatives in Chicago and was shipped there for interment.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitney and Mrs. Fauntleroy left Carmel Sunday night for a brief vacation in the southern part of the state. They had spent Wednesday with friends and relatives at Shell Beach. Harry Emme, Los Angeles oil operator and old friend of the Whitneys, had chartered a plane from Burbank and was to fly from the Santa Maria airport to Los Angeles with the two women.

Whitney, who had planned to return to Carmel in his car, was at the airport to see them off. The plane, piloted by Rod Keenan, of Los Angeles, went out of control shortly after taking off and crashed to earth with great force. It burst into flames immediately and it was more than an hour before the char-

OFFICERS ELECTED

At a meeting of the Council of the Carmel Girl Scouts held Friday in the Girl Scout House the election of officers and committees for the coming year was the principal business of the day.

Mrs. Peter J. Ferrante was elected chairman, Mrs. H. J. Morse, secretary, and Mrs. William Dekker, treasurer. The Committee on Badges and Awards will comprise Mrs. Alger Fast, chairman, and Miss Abbie Lou Bosworth, Mrs. Webster Street and Mrs. Talbert Josselyn are on the committee on Training and Personnel. Mrs. P. W. Van Ess is a committee of one and will handle the publicity. Mrs. E. R. Wallace was reelected to the House Committee, and Mrs. C. J. Ryland to the Camp Committee. The Leader's Representative is Mrs. Frank Townsend and the Brownies' Representative is Mrs. Ernest Morehouse. Mrs. Robert Stanton will serve as a member at large.

Favorite With Scouts

LOOKING AHEAD

In its development of the Mission Tract, the Carmel Realty Company is endeavoring to preserve the natural beauty of the subdivision and is pioneering underground wires, for both power and telephones, in Carmel. There will not be a pole or wire visible in the entire tract.

The cables will be drawn through conduits which will be set in concrete. The main lines will be tapped and the current distributed from a number of manholes to be located at various points in the tract.

Byington Ford, head of the company, explained that while the cost of underground wiring is much higher than the customary pole system of distribution the additional expenditure should be appreciated by discriminating buyers. The expense of the project will be shared by the property owners and the additional cost per lot is said to be trivial.

Mrs. Alfred Hendrickson returned to San Francisco Monday after visiting for a week with Mrs. Estelle Havens-Monteagle at her Pebble Beach home.

New Project Head

Bernard Callery, for the past year assistant supervisor of the WPA Music Project, will succeed Dene Denny as district supervisor, when her resignation becomes effective June 10.

The coming Bach Festival to be held July 19 to 25, and the Denny-Watrous concert series in San Jose will occupy all of Miss Denny's time from now on and for this reason she has tendered her resignation from the post at which she has aquitted herself so admirably.

Death Is Probed

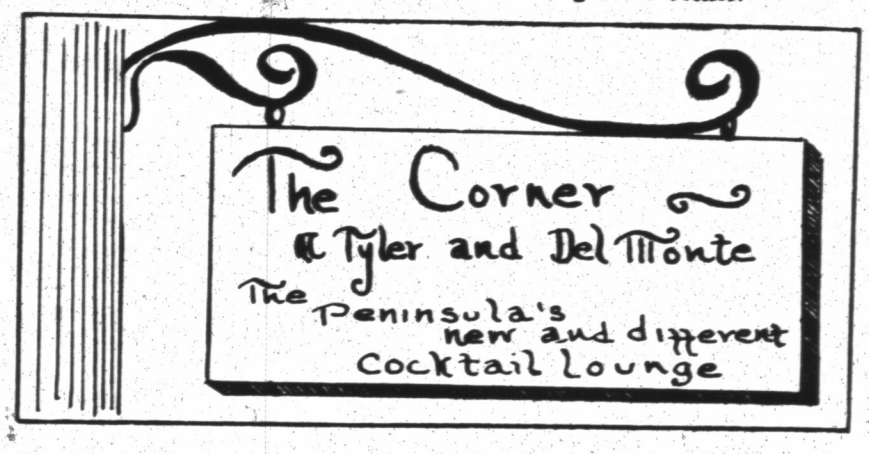
A coroner's inquest being held as we are going to press is to decide whether Milton Roach, clerk in a Carmel cigar store, is to be prosecuted on an involuntary manslaughter charge as a result of the death last Wednesday of Giacento Re, Carmel woodcutter.

Re is said to have entered the shop in an intoxicated condition Tuesday afternoon and Roach made several unsuccessful attempts to eject him. Re, according to witnesses, attempted to strike Roach and the latter retaliated with a punch which caused Re to fall, striking his head upon the concrete sidewalk.

Re was arrested as a drunk and taken to the Monterey jail. When the seriousness of his condition became apparent he was removed to the Peninsula Community Hospital where he died Wednesday morning as a result of a fractured skull.

Roach is at liberty on bail furnished by friends.

Mrs. Jack Jordan entertained several friends at luncheon yesterday at Pine Inn, and later accompanied them to the races at Del Monte where they had taken a box. In the grove were Mrs. Thomas Mulven, Mrs. Thomas Bunn, Mrs. Louis Jorgenson, and Miss Margueriet Tickle.



GRAVE SERVICE HELD

Monday, Decoration Day, in the old Indian graveyard adjoining the Mission, a Requiem High Mass was held over the graves of some 3,000 Indians converted to the Catholic Faith.

The ceremony performed at 9 o'clock, served a twofold purpose; to commemorate the Indians who lie buried in the ancient cemetery, and also to keep fresh the memory of the departed friends and relatives of parishoners of the Mission.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McLaren of Carmelo street have leased the Carmel Valley ranch home of Mrs. Joseph Hooper, and will reside there during the summer months with their two small children. This will be the second successive summer which the McLarens have spent in the Hooper house.

We are "not as wise as these lawyer guys," as Robert W. Service wrote, but we would like for someone of greater wisdom to explain to use just what kind of a situation the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea was left in as a result of the death last Wednesday of Giacento Re.

We have asked a lot of questions about that case and have received a complicated assortment of answers. As near as we could ascertain, these are the facts:

Re was drunk. He engaged in a fight and was knocked down. His head hit the concrete sidewalk. He was arrested and taken to the Monterey jail as a drunk. He was examined by a physician employed by the City of Monterey and the decision was that he was not in need of hospitilization. He lay in a cell for about four hours and then, when it was found that he was bleeding from the nose, he was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital, where he died the next morning. The autopsy showed that he had a fractured skull and a cigar lodged in his windpipe.

Of course, a jail does not fit into the artistic scheme of our Village and prisoners have to be "farmed out" to Monterey on a board and room basis. Our police are not supposed to be physicians and surgeons and could not be expected to know that Re had a fractured skull or had inhaled a cigar when struck. As far as they are concerned, it seems, the doctor's report that the man was not in need of hospitilization cleared them of responsibility, but where does the responsibility lie?

Does Monterey accept with the prisoners from Carmel any responsibility for determining whether they are drunk or injured, or should Carmel decide before the prisoner is taken over the hill whether they should be placed in a cell or a hospital?

There is but slight possibility that either Monterey or Carmel will be sued over this particular case. The verdict of the coroner's jury will, in all probability, be the turning point. The man who struck the blow will either be freed or prosecuted for involuntary manslaughter. However, the case has brought up a point which, we believe, should be given serious consideration by the city council before either, or both, of the cities become involved in a sensational suit for damages.

NEGATIVES
(SUCCESSOR TO SNAPSHOTS)

The love-life of the local movie mogul, Dick Bare, has occupied much space in the weeklies for many moons, last week we thought we had him safely married off, but it seems that the object of his affections, Barbara Joyce is sailing June fifth (with Mama Joyce and sister Betty Joyce Von Saltza) for a summer in Hawaii.

Dick and his "almost brother-in-law" Johnny van Saltza, will doubtless take up residence in the post-office.

The "Californian's" foreign correspondent, Frances Hudgins, who is covering Europe as her present assignment, pulled a scoop out of the bag and got us first hand information anent the Coronation. (Unfortunately, it is still in oral form.) While in Paris, Frances received an invitation to attend the festivities, so with the customary alacrity of all "Californian" trained reporters, she chartered a plane and flew across the channel for the high point in her journalistic career.

A very friendly gesture on the part of several philanthropically inclined Peninsulans has been advanced with the coming of summer vacation. Camperships to a number of deserving Girls Scouts have been given by several Carmelites. The fee for two weeks to Camp Calera in the Corral de Tierra is very small, but the pleasure and enrichening experience derived by the children is worth much more. We can't think of any more pleasant way of spending a few pennies than the giving of a Campership to the Girl Scouts.

Melvin B. Meacham, former ace photographer for the San Francisco News, and his wife came to Carmel Sunday for a three-day vacation, but Melvin won't get much rest out of it. He had not been in town an hour when he was engaged as a special photographer to cover the Del Monte race meet.

Scouts Honored

At a Boy Scout Court of Honor held in the Scout House Friday the following awards were presented: to Alfred Black of Troop 39, sponsored by a Group of Citizens, a Second Class Badge, and to Charles Gansel, of the same troop, a Merit Badge for carpentry.

In Troop 86, sponsored by the Carmel American Legion, Second Class Badges were given to Bob Barbour, Gordon Ewig, Howard Levinson, Bobby Frolli and Gordon Stoddard. Jim Welsh received a First Class Badge. Merit Badges were awarded to Edgar Leslie, for carpentry, pottery, woodwork, woodcarving and bird study; to Jack Coates for horsemanship; to Homer Levinson for athletics; and to Jack Pelton for safety, public health, athletics, personal health and first aid. Star badges went to Edgar Leslie and Jack Pelton and Life Scout awards to Homer Levinson and Jack Pelton.

Certificates for completion of a Specialization Course in Introduction to Scouting were given to W. E. Blackie, P. A. McCreery, John Black, Herbert Brownell, Harry Perkins and Carl G. Moll.

"Tatters," Thursday

"Now Playing, 'Tatters, Pet of Squatters' Gulch' with an After-Show Featuring Real Hollywood Talent," which isn't very different from the first billing to go up outside the First Theatre in 1848. That performance was entitled "Putnam, Lion Son of '76" and was greeted enthusiastically by pioneers. "Tatters" which will reopen the First Theatre, after being dark for 75 years, boasts a cast of unusually gifted thespians and gives promise of providing an evening of riotous mirth. Galt Bell, who trod the boards of Carmel of yore and who, of late, has been successfully associated with the perennial "Drunkard" in Los Angeles, will present his well directed cast the evenings of June 3, 4, and 5.

Mary Henderson has the role of Tatania Timberlake "Tatters". Gordon Knoles is the Hair-Breadth Harry hero, Robert Ferris. Jack Gribner, Robert Bratt, Blackie O'Neil, who was the original master of ceremonies for "The Drunkard", Betty Moorhouse, Manuela Hudson, Lily Collins and Dave Davis, will all emote throughout the "drammy."

The "aftershow" will provide an opportunity for every one to join in the fun.

The Misses Denny and Watrous are aided and abetted in their presentation by Phil Nesbitt who has designed some very amusing sets, and Kay Knudson who is handling the lighting. Tickets are on sale at Margaret Lial's Music store.

Where Two Carmel Women Died

The charred wood and twisted metal, shown above, is all that was left of the plane which crashed at Santa Maria last Wednesday night and caused the death of Mrs. Catherine M. Whitney and Mrs. Dorothy B. Fauntleroy, of Carmel; the pilot and another passenger. At the left is a picture of Mrs. Whitney made by our cameraman last March.

Last Rites Held

red bodies could be removed from the wreckage. It is believed that all four occupants of the plane were instantly killed when it struck the ground.

Mrs. Whitney was a member of the Frolli family, pioneers of Monterey county, and was born in Soledad. She was a graduate nurse and, except for a period of professional service in the southern part of the state, had spent most of her life in Monterey county. For the past 13 years, she and her husbsand had been engaged in the restaurant business in Carmel.

Mrs. Whitney was one of the most active workers in the local Auxiliary to the American Legion and as a tribute to her the flag on the American Legion Club was placed at half-mast when news of her death reached the village. Another tribute was paid her when all business activities in Carmel were halted from 11 o'clock until 11:10 Saturday morning.

Mrs. Fauntleroy and her two children, Joan, 13, and Jacqueline, 10, came to Carmel from Chicago nearly three years ago. During her brief sojourn here, Mrs. Fauntleroy made many friends and was socially prominent throughout the Peninsula.

Albert Campbell takes the $5 prize this week for his picture of a sardine boat in Monterey bay. To make it fit into the space that was available, we had to reduce it so much that we are afraid much of the fine detail in the original will be lost.

Mrs. Suzanne Hedger must have had her small son sitting in hot sand when she snapped the picture above. It is an amusing snapshot but lacks the pictorial qualities that make prize winners.

We hope to have more space available next week and will be in a position to give you more and larger pictures. We are publishing the pictures in the same order that they are received.

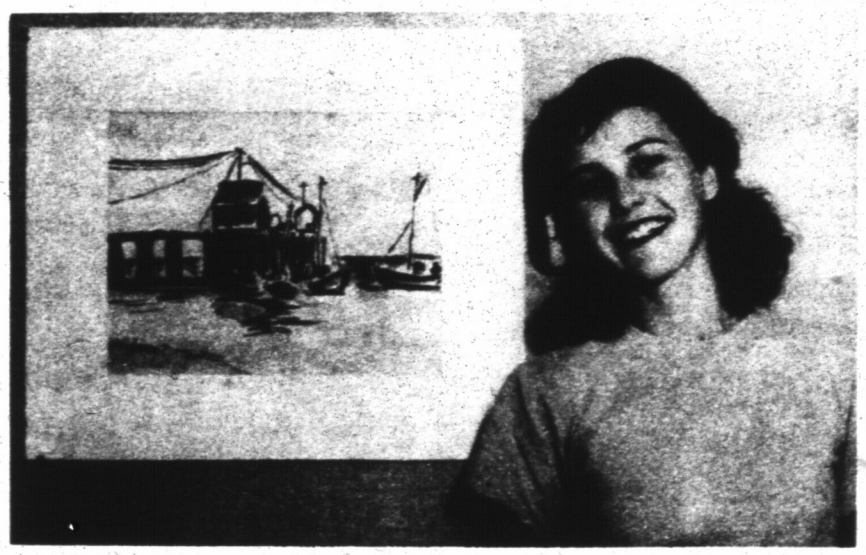
Introducing Our Artists



A vacation in Bavaria from her music studies in Vienna was the manouver of fate that caused Suzanne Hedger to forsake Orpheus for a pallett and canvas. While visiting an aunt, Suzanne was "discovered" by the artist Paul Burlin. He was so struck by her untrained ability that he offered to take her as a free pupil. So it happened that she enrolled in the Academy Colarossi in Paris and began her painting career.

Suzanne is a member of the Carmel Art Association and has exhibited her water colors there frequently. She is also a member of the contingent of young artists of the Village who sketch weekly in the Stovepipe Shack, and who meet regularly in an effort to stimulate interest in competition among the younger artist members of the colony.

With her husband Harry, and small son Michael, she lives in the Sandpiper Cottage on Camino Real and Eighth, where she has her studio.

Sean, Mrs. Monteagle Stearn's Irish Setter, was the victim of a hit and run driver last week. The injuries were painful but not fatal and his friends will be delighted to learn that he is in the convalescent stage. Doctor Outhier is in attendance.

WOOD CARVER HERE

By all means, if you're interested in the unusual, hie yourself to the Edwards Gift shop and view the intricate and exciting objects of wood which Mr. G. De Packh has made and is making.

Mr. De Packh is a modeler in wood. It is his firm belief that almost anything that can be made in any medium can be reproduced in wood. And he has set about to prove it. There are hundreds of exquisitely made articles, bookends, belt buckles, bracelets, buttons, brooches, paper-cutters; almost everything you could imagine has been decoratively carved from beautiful woods. Unlike most woodcarvers, Mr. De Packh has no objections to an audience. He usually has one outside his window, but his hand remains steady in the presence of observers.

Mickie, his small Irish terrier, is his constant and adoring companion and greets her friends underneath her master's work table.

Sailing the eighth of June from New York on the S. S. Transylvania, will be Mr. and Mrs. James Cockburn and their daughter, Evelyn. The Cockburns will spend the summer in Scotland visiting relatives and friends. Evelyn, who is a student at the Castelleja School for Girls in Palo Alto, spent the week-end in Carmel with her parents.

Judge Wood Dies

Funeral services for Judge George L. Wood of Carmel, who died at his home Wednesday, were held at the Freeman mortuary Friday morning. Reverend Carel Hulsewe, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, officiated. Cremation in Salinas followed the services.

Judge Wood was in his 72nd year and had been a resident in Carmel for the past 16 years. He was born in Madison, Wisconsin of New England parentage, but spent the greater part of his life in the Middle West.

He was elected to the city council in 1926 and served one term. After expiration of that term he was appointed city judge, which position he held until he was forced to resign last October by reason of ill health.

Judge Wood was truly a friend of all Carmelites and during his residence here never ceased to struggle toward civic improvement.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace A. Wood and by a son, George L. Wood Jr., now visiting in Carmel.

BIRDS ON WAR PATH

Many residents of the Village had the unique experience of being attacked by a flock of blackbirds on Ocean avenue Wednesday. Several dogs and at least one cat were put to flight by the infuriated birds.

After several hours it was found that the birds had declared war on everyone on the avenue, between San Carlos and Dolores streets, because a couple of young birds, receiving their first instructions in solo flights, had made forced landings and were hiding under automobiles parked along the street.

In Festival

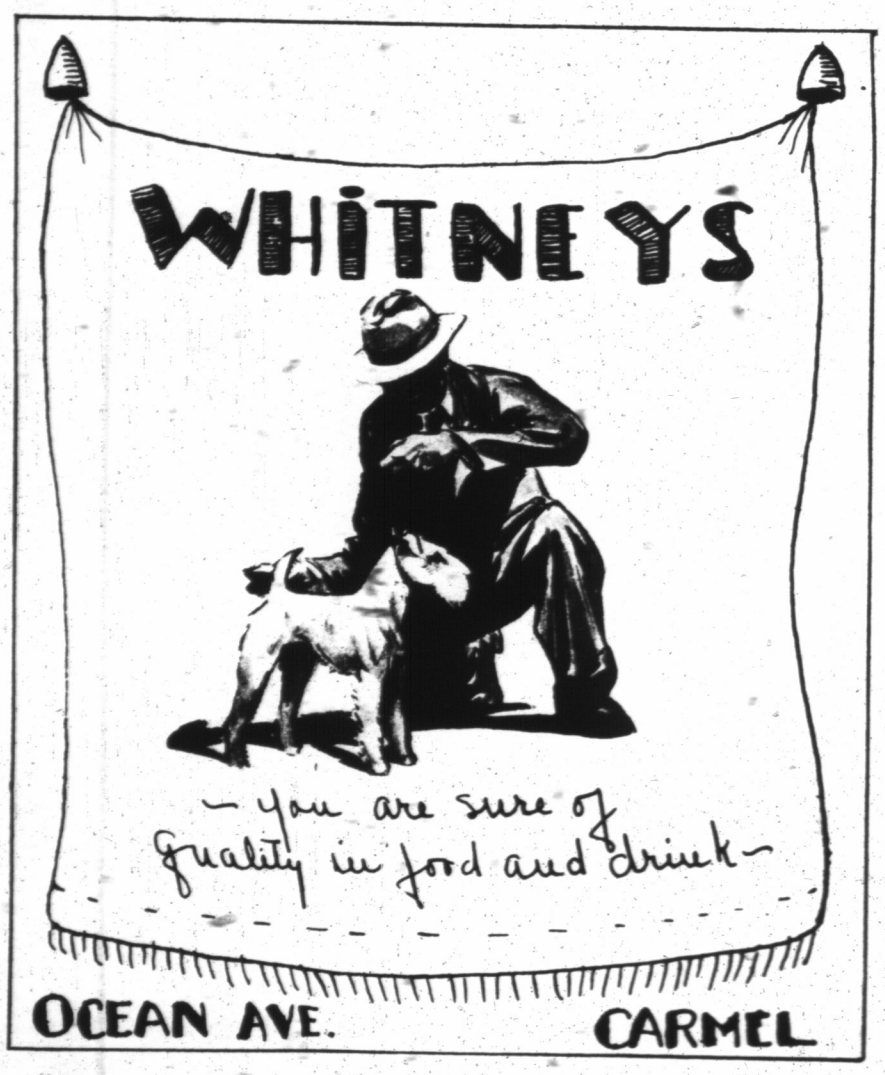
Deputy District Attorney, Kalmen Y. Sapero is not the only member of the Sapero family who has a title, for Mrs. Sapero, above, by unanimous approval of her fellow workers is recognized as "the leading lyric soprano" of that group of singers in the 1937 Bach Festival.

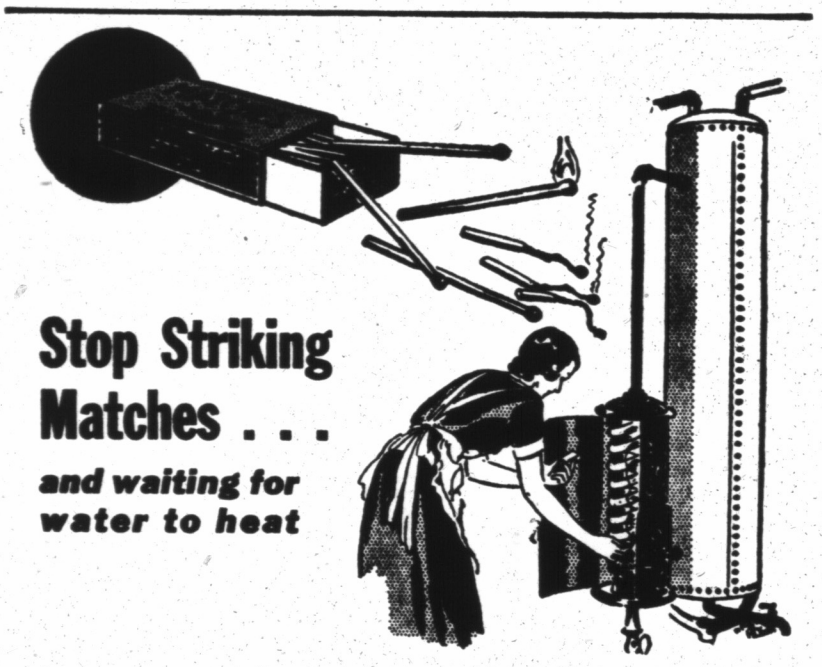
Although she has not yet attained the nonor of being a soloist, that distinction is in the not too distant future, according to Miss Dene Denny, associate producer of the event.

Mrs. Sapero was for some time a pupil of John Smallman in Los Angeles and is at present studying with Edward C. Hopkins of Monterey.

She is imbued with the great appreciation of music and with talent to do justice to her Bohemian ancestry.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jordan left today for a two weeks' vacation in Stockton where they will visit Mrs. Jordan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Eagel.





Stop Striking Matches . . .

and waiting for water to heat

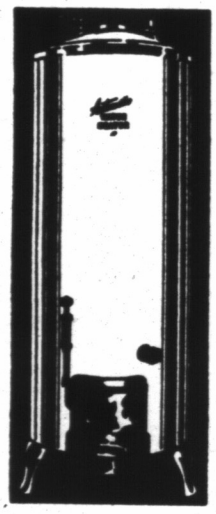
Use a Modern Automatic Gas

WATER HEATER

OF COURSE it isn't the mere striking of matches that makes the old-fashioned tank type of water heater such a nuisance. It is because someone always has to light the heater. It is because someone always has to wait for the water to heat. Someone has always to remember to turn off the water heater.

With an Automatic Gas water heater all this is different. You turn on hot water at the faucet. You learn to take its service for granted, a part of the modern living you enjoy. The first month of service is always a revelation; you wonder how you ever put up with any other kind of hot water service in your home.

For only an Automatic keeps an abundant supply of water stored hot ready for service at the turn of a faucet. There is no starting or stopping for anyone to remember. It is quiet, dependable, absolutely carefree. And all this for less cost per gallon of hot water than you pay for your present unsatisfactory hot water service.



Judge this automatic service of hot water in your home for yourself; go and see the new Automatic Gas water heaters on display in the nearest P. G. and E. office or at your dealer's store.
